

A key differentiator: No Cost/ No Commitment Testing

To lower risk & optimize the results of a potential engagement, TLE.market performs a no-cost analysis before entering into formal agreements with a potential client. The output of this exercise is a document that details TLE.market's understanding of what a potential engagement would entail, processes, tools, messaging, the client's objectives, expected results and costs. It allows TLE.market and the client to assess the potential success of an engagement. This process, called the LSA (Lead Solution Analysis), is comprised of the following steps:
